Dent Raps Scheidle In Board Of Supervisors Race

POLITICAL ISSUES: Politics were the main topic of discussion at the Spring Valley Rotary meeting Friday noon at Langhorst's Restaurant in Spring Valley. Art Akers (left), candidate for the 3rd district Supervisor's seat, is shown as he and Supervisor Robert C. Dent of the 3rd district and candidate Harry Scheidle (right) air issues of concern in this area. The three gave talks to Rotarians and a question and answer period followed.

Political Fat Boils

by Jack Pollard

Political smoke filled the air at Langhorst's Restaurant in Spring Valley Friday noon when the Spring Valley Rotary Club had three men who are running for the 3rd District County Supervisor's seat on hand throwing comments at each other.

On hand to air political policies and campaign drives were incumbent County Supervisor Robert C. Dent, and challengers Art Akers and Harry Scheidle.

Dent opened into the ring first when he charged Scheidle of accusing him of not doing his job as supervisor properly.

He also charged Scheidle of proposing weak arguments and of talking about facts that can not be substantiated. Dent said that Scheidle has taken credit for building the new San Diego Stadium.

He pointed out that the County played an important role in the building of the stadium. He also cited Scheidle for saying that the County had not done its share in building roads for the stadium.

Dent presented figures showing that the County had paid more than $2 million for road construction going in and out of the Stadium area. The City of San Diego shelled out more than $1 million for road construction.

Dent said that the taxpayer has a right to know what a political candidate intends to do with his money.

Dent charged that Scheidle would take money that would otherwise be used in the unincorporated areas would go to the people in the City if Scheidle were elected.

Scheidle said that the taxpayer in the incorporated areas were getting robbed by taking money and using it for people in the unincorporated areas.

Dent said that the tax rate of the County could not be compared with that of the City because the County fills many services that the City does not.

Dent said that the County supervisors have been elected to keeping the taxes low as possible. He asked Scheidle if the tax should not be held or if the tax line should not be kept intact.

Lacks Trust

The Supervisor said that he does not trust Scheidle and with this feeling he does not feel that Scheidle belongs in the race. Dent said that Scheidle would not represent the County as much as he would the people in the city.

Dent further charged Scheidle with saying that County taxes are too high. The Supervisor said that San Diego County is 57th in rank of 58, or next to the last in cost per capita, for County government.

Supervisor Gets Pegged

Scheidle bounced back with the statement that he is against long term entrenched stagnation. He rapped the Supervisor for having a "wait and see" attitude.

He feels that the County has to get into motion. He charged that the Supervisor failed to provide the leadership that was necessary for the building of the new airport.

He said that if the Board of Supervisors had acted properly that Lindbergh Field would, along with all of the other airports in the community, then be a proper function of County government. He feels that this did not happen.

He touched on the Stadium topic. He said, "This is a typical county project... the City goes out and rolls the ball and gets the thing going and commits the people to $27 million."

Why was the County in it? Two reasons: the paramount reason being that they needed a joint powers agreement which was necessary to raise the money and to develop the financing.

All of the money came from the City of San Diego. The County did put some roads in at the unincorporated areas.

One of the other main reasons is that the names of the County Supervisors is as big as those of the officials from San Diego.

Major Blunder Charged

Scheidle charged that the County has made some major blunders. He referred to the County Court house and the air conditioning in it.

He said, "The County Court house is a fiasco. The air conditioning is bad. This is one of their claims to fame in the County."

The challenger said that the Supervisors float a $4 million bond issue and then find out that they are $2 million short when the project is in motion.

Coordination and consolidation is needed, the contender said. County government has many holes that need to be plugged and that the taxpayers will revolt if something is not done and done fast.

He said that he has not been able to find any indication of major projects that the supervisors have made or even started.

Scheidle contended that the City of San Diego has made strides by building a stadium, parks, the Community Center, a bus system. He said that these moves have all been made while the taxes have decreased.

The contender asked the Rotarians if they are happy with the way that the flood problems have been conducted. He put the question of leadership of the County government to them. He charged the County with having "junk roads" as compared to the City of San Diego. Scheidle used Lake Murray Blvd. as an example.

Scheidle said that he was the quarterback in building the Stadium in the molding of the San Diego transit system. He told the group that with this background he feels qualified to fill the position of County supervisor.

Akers Does Not Make Promises

Art Akers, told the group that the biggest asset that he can offer to the people of the 3rd District is that of being a citizen.

He said that he has seen politicians come and go. Politicians that have made promises that were never filled he said.

Akers said "If you are expecting promises from me forget it, because I don't make promises. If you want me to go down there and represent some one person, forget it because I will not be a representative for someone else. I will do a good job and I will report to you on it."

Akers said that he was disturbed about the taxes. He also said that he is disturbed about the fact that the people are not getting the representation they want.

He said that the people voted against urban renewal and they got it. He said that this is not representation of the people.

He said that the County is losing money by paying planners to do nothing but send a big bill to the government. He said that it is time that the people did something about it by voting for him.

The DIMMER VIEW

Supervisor's Race is Hot One

Well, here it is.

It's time for separating the political sheep from the goats again. And there's bound to be many a heart-break Tuesday after the votes are counted in California — but there'll be a bunch of jubilant victors, too.

Locally, the supervisors race is the hot one.

In the 3rd District Supervisor Bob Dent will be fighting for his political life against City Councilman Harry Scheidle while Art Akers, a perennial candidate, is in for the ride.

In another district, the same day, Sup. Frank Gibson is an almost certain to be unseated by another City Councilman, Jack Walsh. Dent doesn't want this to happen to him. Yet, both Dent and Scheidle claim to be winners at the primaries.

Our favorite candidate is a fellow we don't even know. He is Jack McClure of Chula Vista who is running for Congress. His press communications never made it clear whether he is a Republican or a Democrat or what district he is running in.

McClure, who says he is a manufacturer of aerated lawn sprinklers in Chula Vista offers this unusual platform:

1. $2,500 6-year student loan funds at 2% interest repayable in 10 years. This gives schools money to operate and the ones who get the schooling pay for it, he says.
2. 24-hours work for 40 hours pay. Increases productivity, he says.
3. Repeal all income and sales tax laws. Tax on land only. Have one tax collections agency. Reduce the 39% record keeping cost, he says.
4. Everybody gets a pension at age 65 when he is elected.
5. Fix minimum farm prices a year in advance to farmers can take out crop insurance (or perhaps plant to highest guarantees).
6. Cover all military personnel by minimum wage laws. (Overtime pay for repulsing midnight Vietnam raids?)
7. Put flood gates at both ends of San Diego Bay. Control the gates so the manure can be drained at the Tijuana end at low tide and fresh water replenished at high tide. Plant salmon in the bay for more recreation.

With a platform like that, what must his opponent come up with to top him?

Don't forget to vote Tuesday!

For whom?

That's your problem.

A Grade School Lesson

From the Editor's Desk of the U.S. Press Association in Washington comes this note addressed to us:

A grade school teacher we know had a disciplinary problem in her class. A young tough threatened her with a knife.

The teacher ordered that every pupil in the class would return to her room at the end of the school day and sit in silent meditation for one hour every afternoon that week. Before the end of the second day parent protests were shrill and the principal was on her back.

With the principal at her side our teacher hero explained sweetly to her students that she was only demonstrating to them the principle of "collective guilt" which the President's riot commission announced, and which the politicians memorialized after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Thereupon, she polled her class to inquire if each student understood the principle of "collective guilt." Each student did, and "stay after school" order was rescinded, and the young tough expelled from school.

'Mud Slinging' Charged In Race

Art Akers, candidate for the County Board of Supervisor's seat, told the Spring Valley Community Council Monday night that he refuses to engage in "mud slinging", "name calling", and other types of back-room politics but prefers to deal in facts, figures and past performances.

He accused the incumbent of "twelve years of inactivity and inaction" and the aspiring City Councilman of "seven and one-half years of organized mismanagement".

Akers said the cost of operating the County Supervisor's Department had risen from $444,390 to $559,329 in just three years. This is almost 33% a year. The costs of other departments is rising as rapidly as 50% a year and in some cases much faster. He deplored the incumbent's silence and inactivity during the recent scandals uncovered in the Welfare Department by the District Attorney. He said that he couldn't understand how an elected official could remain silent when the city was being told that people on welfare were "buying race horses", owning new cars, princess extension telephones, buying $16,500 homes and having incomes in excess of $13,000 per year.

Akers said the City Councilman candidate and his council had on two different occasions overruled the direct vote of the majority of the citizens of the city. The reinstatement of Federal Urban Renewal and the transfer of the City Planning Dept. to the control of the City Manager were the two.

He said City Council had acted to purchase approximately 1500 trees for a downtown section and that these trees would cost the taxpayers approximately $235 per tree not counting the upkeep which will reach into the thousands because of the amount of care needed by trees in such a location.

Teen Dance Hall Hearing Reset

A hearing scheduled Monday before the Board of Supervisors regarding a juvenile dance hall in Lemon Grove.

The hearing was asked by Lee Graber, of Newport Beach, whose request for a juvenile dance hall has been rejected twice by the sheriff's department.

Henry Goldy Hits Jackpot With Multi Million $ Merger

Henry Goldy, operator of Michael's Restaurant in Lemon Grove until a few years ago, revealed this week that his new firm had merged with a multi-million dollar food operation.

Involved was Goldy's La Mesa Food Corp. and Servimotion. Servimotion is the third largest food service and distribution firms in the nation.

Also involved as part of Goldy's food corporation are the Bronze Room, Aladdin Catering, and Cafe del Rey Moro in Balboa Park.

Servimotion, listed on the N.Y. Stock Exchange board, grossed $198 million in 1967. It employs 10,200 people, operates 2,580 food trucks and vehicles, 104,500 food vending machines, 75 warehouses, and 60 commissaries.

Goldy founded Michael's in Lemon Grove in 1951, naming it after his son.

Conditions of health caused him to relinquish the cafe in 1958.

He bought the Bronze Room at 8995 La Mesa Blvd. in La Mesa, in 1963. In 1964, the first full year of operation he had built gross sales to $145,000. By 1966 the gross reached $350,000 and in 1967 sales topped one million dollars. Goldy said projections indicate $2 million in sales in 1969 and a $4 million total within four years.

No Change in Policy

No change in the La Mesa operation is anticipated, Goldy said. He will serve as chairman of the board and president of the merged organization. While he will become closely connected with the operation of Servimotion's burgeoning automatic and manual in-plant and in-college food dispensing services, and will have part in the firm's concession business at the Sport's Arena, the new stadium, Naval Electronics Laboratory, and the Community Concourse, he will continue to operate Bronze Room, Aladdin Catering and Cafe del Rey Moro without change in policy.

Prior to the merger, the Bronze Room underwent several expansions. In 1964 a banquet room was added at a cost of $145,000. In 1966 the coffee shop got a $35,000 face-lifting. Last year additional banquet rooms and penthouse offices and a new catering kitchen were added at a cost of $175,000.

In 1967 he acquired Cafe del Rey Moro in the House of Hospitality complex spending $125,000 immediately on re-rooms there.

More improvements are being made at Cafe del Rey Moro which will bring the refurbishing cost to more than $175,000, he said.

Started From Scratch

Aladdin Catering was started from scratch in 1960 by Goldy and has become the largest catering firm of its type in San Diego. Aladdin boasts personnel, equipment and facilities to serve 10,000 people at one time. Recently, Aladdin served charcoal broiled steaks to 3,700 people in an outdoors party in San Diego. "Every steak was served hot and all diners had been served within an hour," he said. It was accomplished with a battery of portable broilers the firm has, he pointed out.

Goldy's Aladdin once served full meals to 7,600 people in one hour and 22 minutes at Balboa Stadium. "We also served a record amount of refreshments while doing it too, he said.

Goldy is not only well-known in Lemon Grove and La Mesa, he is a widely known leader in civic, fraternal and social circles.

He has been active for many years in Masonic and Shrine organizations and presently holds the office of marshal in Al Bahr Shrine Temple. He is past president of Mt. Helix High Twelve and is two times past president of the Good Fellowship club which stems

LG District To Face Higher School Taxes

Money problems faced a perplexed board Monday night as the Lemon Grove Elementary School District trustees listed to a flock money proposals.

First, R. Offord, chairman of the negotiating committee of district teachers, asked for health insurance that would cost the district $40,000 annually and raise the tax rate 13c. The board appeared agreeable to an insurance plan — but not at that level. Byron Netzey, district superintendent said the board might be agreeable to about half. Funds pay the cost would be a permissive override tax that would be invoked.

Jim Dawson, chairman of the Teachers' Salary Committee asked for increases in teachers' wages of about 9 per cent. It would cost the district $126,245 a year. A 4.6 per cent increase was asked for classified personnel. This would add $20,000 a year to the budget.

"We sure are losing ground as far as the budget is concerned but something needs to be done about salaries," Netzey said. "However, there is no money in the budget for these increases. Nor do I nor the board know where the money is coming from."

The board took the health insurance and pay raise problems under advisement.

In other action the board set summer school schedule for June 24 to July 26 with Dr. R. Sutton in charge of the program at Junior high school and Wiley Cornelius in charge of the six elementary school classes. So far, 450 youngsters have registered for the junior high classes and $50 for elementary.

The board also accepted the resignation of Dr. Douglas Giles who will accept an administrative post with the Chula Vista District.

Dr. Giles has been with the district 10 years and was principal at San Altos school.

Supervisors Give Relief To Brookside Flood Victims

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Improvements in Brookside that will cost $76,200 were approved on Monday by the county board of supervisors.

The largest expenditure is for $44,200 to reconstruct the culvert under the intersection of Par drive and Fairway dr.

The present structure is inadequate to handle the flow of water during heavy rains.

The result has been disruption of traffic and heavy increased maintenance costs in the immediate area, according to County Engineer David K. Speer.

The other job, estimated at $32,000, will be to install three underground conduits that will take the water from Sweetwater road and funnel it into the main Fairway drainage ditch.

The system will protect several Par dr. properties and end the constant ponding of water in the streets. Speer said the county does not ordinarily spend road fund money for such improvements on local interest roads.

Hardison's Spanish

Is the word "eleccion" considered as good usage in Spanish? What is the English equivalent? "Eleccion" is good usage. The English equivalent is "election." Spanish words ending in "cion" may be converted to English by changing "cion" to "tion."

The verb form for this word is "elegir" which means "to elect." An example phrase with this verb could be "Voy a elegir un candidato." for "I am going to elect a candidate."

In most elections, however, we will see the imperative form, "eleja." You will notice that this verb reflects a graphic change. The letter "g" has been replaced by the letter "j." Pronunciation of the imperative form stresses the next-to-the-last syllable and is represented phonetically as "eh-LEH-hah."

Next week on the 4th of June we will have the opportunity to use "elegir" in verb form and in direct action. We will have "una eleccion" (an election). So "eleja su candidato" for "elect your candidate." It is a great comfort to know that we in San Diego still have the opportunity to make a choice. Let's think hard and use our choice wisely.

This week's phrases relate to conversation which may be heard during an election. You may learn them with the guidance of an automatic recording when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Eleja el candidato." (eh-LEH-hah eh! Kahn-dee-DAH-toh) for "Elect the candidate." Say "El es el mejor." (eh! ehs eh! meh-HOHR) for "He is the best."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "Cuando votamos?" (koo-AHN-doh voh-TAH-mohs) for "When do we vote." Say "La eleccion es el martes." (lah eh-lek-see-OHN ehs eh! MAHR-tehs) for "The election is on Tuesday."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "No es olvide." (noh seh ohl-VEE-deh) for "Do not forget." Say "Es muy importante." (ehs MOO-ee EEM-pohr-TAHN-teh) for "It is very important."

McCarthy Campaign Takes On Women Aids

Senator Eugene J. McCarthy's campaign for the presidential nomination has opened the political doors to women who constitute the majority of the nation's voters.

Long assigned to the mailing and typing departments in political campaigns, women are now making major political decisions. In California, this is particularly impressive. Out of a total of 172 McCarthy delegates, 35 are women.

In Southern California, out of a total of 84 alternates elected to date, 27 are women. Additional Southern California alternates will be elected later. Northern California will not select alternates until after June 4.

The McCarthy slate includes women who have never before taken a public political stand, women involved in peace organizations, women in the professional world and housewives from suburban communities.

New idea for an old fossil.

Someday at a coal mine 800 miles away in southern Utah a generating plant will very likely produce electric power for San Diego's dynamic growth. SDG&E is working now with the Southern California Edison and Arizona Public Service Companies on plans for a 5-million-kilowatt generating plant on Utah's coal-rich Kaiparowits Plateau, a plant which will convert coal to power right at the mouth of the mine. This is economically feasible through use of new transmission techniques and the ability to produce crude oil from the coal. Finding new sources of power for San Diego's future is one of our biggest jobs today. We are continually exploring every possibility to find the best supplies of economical power wherever they are.

by Scott McGaugh
With the conclusion of the CIF Track and Swimming Finals, the sports schedule for Monte Vista in 1967-68 came to a close.

The CIF Track Finals were held last Friday in Balboa Stadium for all of San Diego City and County. Monte Vista was well represented by the efforts of Dave Carter and Pat Foley, both Juniors.

Although Dave was favored to win the two-mile against John Jacobsen he came through with his best time ever to win. Dave's time of 9:16.1 was his second-best ever.

Pat Foley took first place in the discus finals held a week earlier at Monte Vista. Both Pat and Dave will represent Monte Vista in the State Finals which will be held at Berkeley this Saturday. The CIF Finals were held last Friday with many Monarchs turning in some good performances. In Varsity, Dave Sporleder took third place in the 50 freestyle for Monte Vista's only points.

In Class B, Mike Mills captured fifth in the 200 freestyle. Brad Julihn followed up with a sixth place finish in the 400 freestyle. In the 400 freestyle relay, Monte Vista took fifth. The B team took ninth.

In Class C the Monarchs placed fifth due to many outstanding efforts. The Monarch 200 medley relay took fourth. Mark Hodges took fifth in the 200 freestyle. In the 100 Butterfly, Rob Morell finished fifth. Mark Hodges came back with a fifth in the 100 freestyle. Cliff Grant took fifth in the 100 Backstroke.

Spring Valley Woman United With Mother, Brother After 25 Years Of Separation

by Tommy Thomas

Mothers Day is one of the sweetest days of the year. But most of us are apt to forget it until the day is upon us again. There is one person in Spring Valley who is not likely to forget Mothers Day, 1968, or the day before, for a long time. That person is Mrs. Joe (Cora) Burnett of 10707 Jambucha blvd. (Sweetwater Lodge), a nurse employed at a local nursing home. On May 11 (the day before Mothers Day) she was reunited with her mother and her only brother, after 25 years. It all began when Mrs. Burnett received a clipping of an obituary notice, from an uncle in Riverside, Calif., telling of funeral services for Mrs. Burnett's grandmother.

In the notice, it listed two of the survivors; a Mrs. Norma Kelley, a daughter of Oregon, and a grandson, Douglas Marsh of California.

Taking the clipping, Mrs. Burnett drove to Santa Ana and to a girl friend's home. From there she telephoned the mortuary and was told her grandmother's services were to be that day (May 11).

She was also given the telephone numbers of Mrs. Kelley and Douglas Marsh, and another number which was located in Santa Ana.

On a hunch, suspecting Mrs. Kelley was her mother, Mrs. Burnett decided first to call the Santa Ana number. Someone at the other end picked up the receiver and Mrs. Burnett asked if Mrs. Kelley was there, and was told "yes." Mrs. Kelley was called to the phone.

After saying, "Hello," Mrs. Burnett asked, "Do you have a son named Douglas?"

Mrs. Kelley replied that she had.

Then Mrs. Burnett, tearfully, asked Mrs. Kelley if she had a daughter named Cora.

"Yes," Mrs. Kelley replied, "Yes," Mrs. Burnett really was choked up, as she said, "This is Cora. This is your daughter talking."

It was no time at all until Cora Burnett's girl friend had taken her to the house where Mrs. Kelly was staying and where she also found her brother, Douglas.

They were waiting for her outside the house when she arrived, the house being the home of Douglas Marsh's in-laws.

It was a long evening of reminiscing. The next day being Mothers Day it was dinner and flowers for mother, Cora Burnett was born in Riverside, Calif. and at the age of five her father and mother divorced, she going with father and Douglas with mother.

Her father had moved from place to place since the separation, including Grants Pass, Ort., where Cora graduated from high school.

All of this time she did not know where her mother was or how she was, but understood she had died, and knew nothing of her brother.

She was unaware that her mother had remarried, and as Mrs. Norma Kelley, was living in Medford, Ore., at the same time Cora lived in Grants Pass.

Finally Cora's father moved to Dallas, Tex., where they lived for some time, while Cora "grew up." She later decided to strike out for herself, coming back to California and on to San Francisco, where she studied to become a nurse.

It was while in the Bay area that she met Joe Burnett, a Navy man, and later they were married. As a result of this union there are four Burnett children. The Burnetts spent a while in Florida before returning to California.

Cora's brother Douglas, now 38, is a successful jeweler in a California beach city. He was in the Navy for a while, and during that time, said he made a special effort to locate his sister.

He went to the chaplain to ask his advice about tracing Cora. The chaplain told him it might be difficult, as she probably was married by now and changed her name, and more than likely had moved to "Who knows where."

But all things come to he who waits, although it's still a mystery to Cora Burnett how an uncle happened to locate her to send the obituary notice.

ing April, and four persons were given employment through the efforts of Spring Valley Welfare.

Newsman Slaps Reardon Report At Bar Meeting

The Reardon Report was given a verbal going-over by a top newsmen Monday at the Foothills Bar Association meeting at Top Shelf in Grossmont. The lacing was handed the Report by Larry Sisk, publisher's representative of the San Diego Union and Evening Tribune. Sisk, until recently, was managing editor of the Evening Tribune.

The Reardon Report is a set of guidelines handed down by Massachusetts Supreme Court Justice Paul C. Reardon which would legislate procedures and rules for handling the public's business in courts and by law enforcement officials.

Tampering with the freedom of the press as guaranteed by the Constitution is encouraged by Reardon's recommendations, Sisk pointed out. "But the First Amendment just can't be diluted," he said.

Sisk charged that in many cases the closing of public records to the press was the result of Justice Reardon's recommendations.

PTA BACKS PROPOSITION NO. 2

Members of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers (CCPT) are actively supporting Proposition 2, a measure that will provide for a $65 million bond issue for California junior college facilities, on the June 4 primary ballot, according to Mrs. Donald Browne, 8454 Wenatchee ave., El Cajon, president of the Ninth District, CCPT.

Mrs. Browne, a member of the CCPT state board of managers, said, "With nearly 80 percent of the state's freshmen and sophomores attending college in this state now enrolled in junior colleges, the need for the expansion of the building program increases every year."

There are over 115,000 members in San Diego county PTA groups with nearly 2-million members in the state. As a member of the board of managers in the state organization, Mrs. Browne represents members of the Ninth District, which encompasses 24 elementary and secondary councils in San Diego county.

"The passage of Proposition 2 is vital not only for the entire state," concluded Mrs. Browne, "but especially for such population-impacted areas as San Diego county where the compact community is now experiencing tremendous overcrowding in existing junior college facilities."

Dan Filippini, 17 Gets Naval Academy Bid From Van Deerlin

WASHINGTON — Daniel Alan Filippini, 17, of 1506 Angelus ave., Lemon Grove, has been offered an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy. Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, announced Wednesday.

Young Filippini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine R. Filippini, was one of nine young men nominated by Van Deerlin for two vacancies in the academy's Class of 1972.

At Mount Miguel High School, where he is a senior, Filippini has served as class attorney general, been a member of the International Club and the California Scholastic Federation, and participated in football, wrestling and swimming.

He was selected by the Naval Academy after an open competition based on the scores achieved on a battery of physical and mental tests administered by the academy.

Van Deerlin said he is "especially proud" of Filippini and six other young constituents accepted this year by the three national service academies.

other property owners in the section also want their land rezoned to R-3, but he commission did not seem impressed by this claim since the majority of the land is fully developed with single family residences.

Planning Director Dan Cherrier told the commission that the single R-3 change would make no particular impact on Lemon Grove, but that it would be an opening that could lead to more of the same. He said if a great deal of land was rezoned to R-3 and then developed to that density, it could put a strain on the available services, schools, roads, sewers, water.

Commissioner Warren Hooper told Fish that if the land owners are willing to get together to improve the road to R-3 standards in a wide area, and are willing to pay for those improvements and the added taxes, that he would be ready to go along with an upgrading of the section.

The matter can be appealed to the county board of supervisors.
